

May Mulching

- Purchase natural mulch, such as composite wood chips, from your local lawn and garden store.
- Prepare the area around the tree by removing any debris, sticks, limbs and weeds.
- Rake the area to make the ground around the tree as even as possible.
- Apply the mulch in a circle around the tree. Put it about the length of the limbs on small, young trees. Measure about a 12 foot span (about 3.5 m) around large, adult trees. Do not mound the mulch around the base of the tree. Deep mulch can lead to excess moisture in the root zone, which can stress the plant and cause root rot.
- Piling mulch against the trunk or stems of plants can stress stem tissues and may lead to the development of insect and disease problems or stem girdling roots.
- Make sure the mulch measures about 2 to 4 inches (5 to 10 cm) in depth.
- Spread the mulch evenly around the tree by using your rake.
- Step back and check the appearance of the mulch ring and make any adjustments, if needed, to make the shape even. Apply water around the mulched tree if the soil is particularly dry.
- Check your mulched tree throughout the season for weeds and pull them as needed.
